PRESS RELEASE

DISTRICT OF PORT EDWARD HIRES NEW CAO TYSON SCHOFIELD

Council is very pleased to announce the hiring of Tyson Schofield as the new Chief Administrative Officer (CAO), for the District of Port Edward.

Tyson Schofield comes from the City of Delta, where he was the Manager of External Relations. He was a senior member of Delta's management team within the Corporate Services Department, leading Delta's work pertaining to intergovernmental affairs, economic development, and strategic policy initiatives on behalf of Delta Council and the CAO.

During his time at the City of Delta, Mr. Schofield would also act as the Director of Corporate Services, and he previously held the positions of Manager of Policy and Intergovernmental Affairs, and Manager of Council Initiatives. Through this work, Tyson led the recruitment and onboarding the City's previous CAO on behalf of Delta Council. Tyson also coordinated and ensured the implementation of Council's strategic goals and priorities across the organization, ensuring alignment between departments and executive direction.

"We are looking forward to welcoming Tyson Schofield to the District of Port Edward. Council believes his experience as a leader and effective communicator in local government, along with his skills in strategic planning and intergovernmental affairs, will be a tremendous asset for the municipality," said Knut Bjorndal, Mayor of the District of Port Edward.

Tyson Schofield holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Labour Studies from Simon Fraser University.

"I am thrilled to be to joining the District of Port Edward and partnering with Port Edward Council and staff to deliver on the goals and priorities of Council while ensuring the residents of Port Edward continue to receive a strong level of service delivery." said Tyson "I want to thank Mayor and Council for providing me this opportunity here in Port Edward."
